

The Colonial Woodsmyth

Common Name: Canarywood

Botanical Name: Centrolobium paraense

Other Common Names: Amarillo lagarto, Ararauba, Balaustre, Putumuju, Canarywood, Birote de montana, Tarara

Common Uses: Furniture, Poles, Posts, Tool handles, Turnery, Inlay, Musical Instruments

Region: Central and South America

Country: Brazil, Guyana, Venezuela

Tree Data: The tree can grow to heights of 100 feet with a clean and straight bole without buttressing. Trunks can be up to 20" in diameter

Heartwood Color: The heartwood ranges from bright yellow to orange with streaks of red or purple.

Sapwood Color: Creamy white

Grain: Straight and even

Texture: Fine to medium textured

Luster: Medium

Williamsburg, VA
www.colonialwoodsmyth.com